Description:

Moderate rainfall is expected along the coast of Liberia. This event is anticipated to occur between 13:00 and 18:00 on December 19, 2025. Rainfall may reduce visibility on roads and at sea. Localized waterlogging and minor disruptions to coastal and marine activities are possible.

Instruction:

Avoid flooded or waterlogged areas. Motorists are advised to drive with caution on wet and slippery roads and to stay away from low-lying, waterlogged areas. For coastal and marine users: Small boats should exercise caution, as seas may become rough. Reduce speed and navigate carefully during periods of low visibility. Check weather updates from the Liberia Meteorological Service (LMS) before going offshore.
